Simplify case management across all of your programs

WellSky equips everyone in your organization to collaborate toward better outcomes.

The work you do requires a big heart and a lot of data. That's why so many community-based organizations rely on WellSky Community Services™ to manage programs, track providers and care for clients – with both efficiency and compassion.

Bring person-focused care to your community

WellSky's configurable design lets you maintain a single client record that every service provider in your network can access and update. Shelters, job training sites, health care providers, substance use centers, and many other organizations can all use WellSky to document the care they provide.

Give your providers easy-to-use tools

WellSky is purpose-built for community-based organizations that have little time to train their staff on how to use software. Every feature is quick to learn and easy to use. This cloud-based platform helps everyone function like a cohesive team – so you deliver client-centered care from initial referral to final outcome. Your staff benefit from new tools to handle overwhelming caseloads. And your managers gain visibility to guide the best possible care.

Link funding to outcomes

You can track how every dollar is spent with exacting precision - you know the service provided, the person who received it, and the outcome that was achieved. This transparency helps you build long-term relationships with key funding sources. Just as important, you gain greater visibility and reliable insights that lead to well-informed decisions.

Lock in best practices across your organization

WellSky lets you define automated workflows to ensure the appropriate actions are taken on every case. Conditional fields speed you though data entry and improve accuracy for every user, and your staff will also appreciate the clean, intuitive interface that leads to greater efficiency.

Community-Based Organizations

WellSky

The WellSky platform can manage virtually any community program.

Coordinate care across every program
WellSky's unique design makes it easy to connect programs within your organization. By sharing a common database of clients with all your staff, you can bring a unified, highly efficient, deeply personal care experience to every person you serve.

Enhance the quality of care you provide
WellSky is a leader in fields of care as diverse as home health, behavioral health, pediatric therapy, homelessness, aging and intellectual and developmental disabilities. You can tap into this unique expertise to improve your care, as well as the potential for system interoperability and applied analytics in the future.

Streamline staff caseloads
Our experience in partnering with a wide spectrum of social service agencies for 19 years has led to a streamlined approach ideal for overworked case managers. WellSky helps your team standardize care according to your policies and track the results quickly, accurately, and consistently.

Run your organization with new insights
WellSky closely tracks every client and case. Detailed reports using the latest visual analytics tools give you greater visibility into your operations. This leads to well-informed decisions that help you achieve the greatest possible good.

Bring clarity to challenging public policy issues
WellSky empowers you with reliable data so you can advocate for the changes your community needs most. When you can align your stakeholders with a shared understanding of a problem, effective change is possible!

> "By improving our efficiency with everything electronic, we expanded our adult behavioral health program from 60 clients to more than 1,700."
